

Dear Supporters,

As we approach the acquisition of our 100th property through the Instant Rates Saver initiative, we would like to highlight some of our most recent property publicity from Inverness to Plymouth.

Estates Gazette Rating Special—How to Lose Your Liabilities

Estates Gazette

Many UK businesses saw their business rates increase on 1 April, so landlords holding empty properties have become even more financially burdened than before. Healthy Planet's Instant Rates Saver initiative continues to thrive, as more and more landlords turn to us as a temporary occupier of these properties. Estates Gazette has singled us out as a prime example of a charitable occupier of these properties, as we save landlords money, improve the feel of the area around the shop, and promote our mission—to inspire, encourage, and support people and do our bit for the planet—like giving out books for free that were destined for landfill. Property Week—Charity has healthy appetite for shops

Property Week profiled Healthy Planet's aim to become one of the biggest high street occupiers in the UK, as we continue to take out short-term leases funded by donations from various landlords across the UK. This article highlights Blacks, the outdoor gear chain, which has sublet almost 80 units to us, making them our biggest single supporter as we approach completing our 100th unit. This means we can promote and do our work in locations throughout the country that we would not otherwise be able to reach.

How you can make a healthier planet: Top Tip!

Speaking of shops, how many times have you made a trip to your local shops by driving your car instead of walking or biking? Think about what you can do to make small changes in your routines that will positively affect the planet as well as your health.
